Action Taken Report (ATR) for 2023-2024 Academic Session

The IQAC is essential in determining how students view their overall college experience because it collects comments methodically. After a careful analysis of feedback data, the institution has pinpointed specific areas where student perceptions need to improve. Insightful ideas and innovative suggestions for the curriculum and teaching-learning process are provided by parents, who also take part in this deliberate feedback process. A comprehensive perspective is also sought by soliciting feedback from the college's alumni. This makes it possible to get feedback from alumni regarding the college and their thoughts on strategic matters that could benefit it. Every comment, whether from instructors, parents, alumni, employers, or students, is meticulously documented, and whenever possible, the proper action is taken. Here are a handful of these areas:

- ✓ The renovations to our educational facility have been completed successfully. More specifically, the classrooms and restrooms have undergone significant improvements, significantly enhancing the overall infrastructure. Students will learn in a better, more suitable environment thanks to this innovation.
- ✓ The geography department now has computers, printers, GIS software, at the department head's and students' desire. Additionally, lab-based departments have been renovated, and some new equipment has been acquired for these departments.
- ✓ The students' attendance and the regularity of the classes were given special attention.
- ✓ A particular focus was placed on the NEP orientation program to make students familiar with the new syllabus.
- ✓ Furthermore, in response to the continuous need for recreational amenities, the common areas for both male and female students have experienced significant remodelling. The goal is to improve students' overall health by giving them comfortable and welcoming spaces to relax and socialise.
- ✓ More sports and fitness facilities have been installed to better meet the evolving requirements and interests of our student group. This program aims to promote kids' physical activity, health, and sense of belonging to the community.
- ✓ Our dedication to providing students with ICT tools, and free internet through WiFi connection to enhance their educational experience is demonstrated by the actions we have taken to upgrade the smart classrooms.
- ✓ It was decided to bring the feedback analysis report to the attention of the University of Burdwan's appropriate authority.
